

LIFE IS FOR LIVING

AWARD

ENTRY RULES_

1. Entrants

Any natural or legal person of any nationality working in the fields of architecture, design, landscape design or the distribution of the Living Ceramics brand may enter the Award, either individually or as part of a team, at their own initiative or at the request of the body organizing the Award providing that they comply with these entry rules.

2. Purpose of the Award

The Award has one category:

-Living Project. This shall include projects for new builds; the refurbishment or alteration of existing buildings; and interventions in urban redevelopment or outdoor landscaping projects. In all cases, ceramic tiles must play an important role in the project.

3. Entry Conditions

3.1 The architectural or interior design projects that are entered must use ceramic wall and/or floor tiles from the Living Ceramics brand in the formal part of the project.

3.2 A technical committee appointed by the company shall verify the projects' compliance with the Entry Rules.

3.3 Projects carried out in both Spain and abroad are eligible for this Award.

3.4 A representative of the finalist projects must be available to attend the event organized by the company on February 4th 2020 at 8.00 p.m., since the winning project shall be announced there.

4. Evaluation Criteria

- The suitability of the chosen materials and formats.
- The creation and design of new uses for our products.
- The material's integration in the project as a whole and in its architecture.
- The project's spectacular outcome.
- The chairman of the jury shall hold the casting vote in case of a tie.

5. Acceptance of the Entry Rules.

By entering this edition of the Life Is for Living Award, the entrant accepts these entry rules and the decision of the jury and, if applicable, that of any technical committee appointed by Living Ceramics for the settlement of any matter arising from this edition of the Award. The entrants shall accept any decisions taken by the technical committee, with no right to question them.

6. Submission of the Entries

The submitted projects must be sent in one single e-mail to award@livingceramics.com by January 10th 2020, specifying the name of the project in the e-mail subject, and including:

- The duly completed registration form (available with these entry rules in the download section of our website at <http://www.livingceramics.com/en/downloads/> .
- A zip file or link to download the material. This material shall consist of:
 - Project description: A brief explanatory account of the project (maximum 600 words) in pdf and/or Word format, indicating the chosen model (the collection, format and colour) used for it. This document must be duly identified with the name of the project and its author.
 - Images: A file should be included containing at least 3 images of the project in jpeg/tiff format with a resolution of 300 dpi.

Living Ceramics shall confirm receipt/the correct download of the information by e-mail by January 13th. In the event of failure to receive all the information specified in the entry rules, the entry will not be accepted.

By sending this information, it is automatically understood that Living Ceramics has been granted all image rights to the said visual material. This authorization includes all uses to which the granted visual material or part of it may be subject, whatever the medium or support, including social networks and other online platforms for any use or purpose, including journalistic, publishing, advertising and decorative applications, among others, in addition to inclusion on the Living Ceramics website.

Given the above, the entrant expressly waives all rights to the examination or approval of the use of this visual material, any final products produced with it and any accompanying texts.

This authorization is granted for the sole purpose of the company's commercial promotion. It is not subject to any time limit and neither is it restricted to the national scope of any country.

7. The Jury

The jury, which shall act in accordance with the entry rules, will be made up of influential figures from the worlds of architecture and design.

Each member of the jury shall separately state the reasons for their vote, assessing the use given to the Living Ceramics tile models in each project.

The jury shall take a majority vote on the winning project. In the event of a tie, the Chairman's vote shall count as two votes.

The jury's decision is final.

One of the members shall perform the duties of secretary and draw up the minutes of the meeting by the jury.

8. The Award

There is one single prize to this Award to be granted to the winning entry:

-Living Project: A sum of €6,000, 50% of which shall be given to the author of the project and 50% to the distributor of the Living Ceramics materials for the project.

The awarded project will be featured in informative dossiers on the 2020 edition of the Award. These dossiers may also be used for any other promotional activity organized by the company.

The jury shall select five finalists, who will be informed of the fact by e-mail and by telephone. In order to be awarded the prize, a representative of each finalist project must necessarily attend the event organized by Living Ceramics at its Vila-Real facilities, at 8 p.m. on February 4th, when the winner will be announced and the prize given.
